Hospital Grounds Ready For The City Beautification Plan

To The Mayor and
To The City Council,
City of Pahokee,
Pahokee, Fla.
Gentlemen:

The grounds around the Pahokee hospital are now ready for your beautification plan. County road forces this week finished hauling in 1279 loads of muck, 438 loads of marl and 30 loads of sand to make a complete job of filling in the grounds. From here on out it is your job. As your county commissioner it has been a pleasure to cooperate on a program that is for the betterment of every person in the area.

A great deal of expense has been involved in filling in the grounds. This expense has been taken care of by the county commissioner at the insistence of none other than your county commissioner.

I shall be quite happy if your council can immediately get busy on the beautification plan. I know you realize full well that any delay will cause further expense if weeds are allowed to grow. And grow they will on those hundreds of loads of fresh muck. I understand that you plan to employ an expert landscape artist to do the beautifying. I am happy to hear that. I would hate to see the grounds messed up by somebody without experience at landscaping. There is too much money involved in the fill to allow this to happen.

This job of filling in the hospital grounds constitutes my share of civic work in the Pahokee area for the next couple of years. I sincerely hope that other organizations will take this particular piece of work into consideration when they think about calling on the county commissioner for more free work.

Beginning Monday morning the county road forces will go back into the business of building roads.

Yours very truly,
Paul Rardin
County Commissioner.

During the first six months that she is there she will also study X-ray. The hospital is operated by Dr. Sigall and Dr. Dunn.

Miss Peggy Moberg, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Moberg of Miami Beach and formerly of Pahokee, went to work Tuesday at St. Francis Hospital on Miami Beach. She is employed as a laboratory technician.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Taylor of Clewiston announce the birth of a daughter at the Pahokee Hospital on Nov. 2.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Jaudon and daughter, Verna June, former Pahokee residents now living in Wauchula, visited relatives and friends here Wednesday.

Thanks Extended For Carnival Help

Mrs. Pope Sears, general chairman of the Canal Point Halloween Carnival and Mrs. Joel Brown, general chairman of the Pahokee Halloween carnival, wish to thank the BPOE Lodge 1639, the Lions Clubs, the Rotary Club, the Everglades Business and Professional Woman's Club, the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, County Commissioner Paul Rardin and all other groups or individuals who donated funds or assisted in any way in making the carnivals and parties outstanding successes in both communities.

Judge Hubbell Is Killed By A Truck

Judge G. A. Hubbell, 89, was accidentally killed in a street accident Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock as he was enroute on foot from his home at Chosen to attend the annual Halloween carnival at Memorial field in Belle Glade.

He was taken to the Belle Glade Hospital where he died at 8:20 without regaining consciousness. Chief of Police Charles Goodlett, Deputy Constable Raymond Mock and Coroner George A. Williams investigated the accident and termed it unavoidable as apparently Judge Hubbell walked into a pick-up truck driven by Tom Jones of Belle Glade.

Largo Eleven Comes To Face Blue Devils

Will the Pahokee Blue Devils win their first victory of the season when they face the Largo eleven on Lair Field tonight? This is the first time the Pahokee and Largo teams have clashed on the gridiron and little is known of the visitors, but many local fans can't believe the Blue Devils will be underdogs forever and stand a good chance of winning tonight.

In losing to the Fort Pierce Eagles 39 to 0 last Friday night Coach Alley's men were completely outclassed in the first half, then stiffened and gave the Eagles a good battle in the second half during which they held the visitors to one touchdown. The Blue Devils outplayed the Eagles' second team in the third quarter and came close to scoring when they reached the Fort Pierce six-yard line only to fumble their golden opportunity with a bad pass from center. In the final stanza the Pahokee lads put up a stout defense against the Fort Pierce first stringers who finally broke through in the final minutes of play to score.

Kickoff time is 8:15 p. m. Come out and see the Blue Devils win—a sight for sore eyes.

James Hillier has arrived from North Carolina for a visit here with his father, Frank Hillier, and other relatives.

Farewell Dinner Rev. & Mrs. Scoggin

Members of the Canal Point Missionary Baptist Church will honor their pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. B. Elmo Scoggin, at a farewell basket dinner on the church lawn Sunday, Nov. 6, immediately following the morning worship hour.

This is the last Sunday Rev. and Mrs. Scoggin will be in Canal Point. They are making preparations to leave immediately for the Near East where both have been assigned as missionaries to Palestine by the Foreign Missions Board of the Southern Baptist Convention. During their stay here they have made many friends who regret their leaving and wish them great achievements in their new mission.

All church members and other friends of Rev. and Mrs. Scoggin are urged to bring baskets and have dinner with them Sunday. The WMU will be in charge of arrangements.

Miss Seger Joins Staff Of Pahokee Hospital

Miss Nancy Ezer Seger of Rockford, Ill., has joined the staff at the Pahokee Hospital as laboratory and x-ray technician. Miss Seger, a graduate of the East Rockford High School, received her training in laboratory work at the Gradwache School of Laboratory and X-ray Technique in St. Louis, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Hamilton spent the weekend in Miami visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Anders.

Community Chest Blows Up! Reason: Lack Of Interest

A handful of people turned out Monday to attend a meeting to decide what to do about continuance of the Pahokee-Canal Point Community Chest. Not enough interest was shown by citizens of the two towns so, those who have carried the burden of bringing in the money, decided to call the whole thing off.

In the past two or three years since inception of the Chest merchants and business men have gotten off light in regard to solicitations. Only one drive was made for more than a half dozen charities—NOW, with the Community Chest dead as a Dodo bird, they can look for someone to be bounding them every week or two with a "worthy" charity.

The Community Chest was a complete success the first year. The second year it wasn't quite so good. Donations fell off. The third year the goal had to be lowered and the officials could see the handwriting on the wall. The whole thing blew up Monday night when not enough citizens put in an appearance to keep it alive.

Merchants and business men—who would have no part of helping in the work of operating the Chest

—can blame no one except themselves when the drives start. There will be a drive for the Dental Clinic. Another for the Band. Another for the Red Cross. Another for this worthy family or that worthy family—not quite able to make the grade by itself. Another for this worthy cause and another for that worthy cause. There will be enough money-raising drives to run an ordinary man nuts, but that will be all right, as was evidenced by the lack of attendance at the Chest meeting Monday night.

The funds on hand were disbursed as budgeted and members decided that if more interest in the organization was not shown before Nov. 15 that the Chest would disband permanently.

Officers of the organization this year are: James H. Wilson, president; P. F. deMoya, vice-president and campaign manager; Mrs. A. W. Farrow, secretary; T. S. Kirk, treasurer; Frank Shaughnessy, Abe Dobrow, O. B. McClure, and deMoya, directors. Other members were: Mrs. Sadie Barwick, Mrs. H. C. Graham, A. R. Harrington, Loel Lence, V. L. Geiger and O. R. Bleeche.

Road 15 From Co. Line North To Chancey Bay In Nov. 15 Bids For State Road Dept.

Armistice Plans Completed By Belle Glade Legion Post

Mayor Harold Rabin of Belle Glade has issued a proclamation asking merchants and business men to cooperate in making Friday, November 11, a great Armistice Day in Belle Glade. Stores are asked to close at noon and merchants are asked to display the national emblem.

A big parade is scheduled to get under way at 2:30 o'clock with speaking to begin at four. Senator Spessard L. Holland is to be the speaker of the day and Congressman Dwight L. Rogers is also on the program.

A barbecue has been planned for the visitors in the city park. Serving will start at five o'clock and continue until around seven, it was said by Legion officials. Barbecue plates will be served for $1.00 each.

At 8:15 the traditional annual foot ball game between Lake Worth Trojans and Belle Glade Rams will be staged on Memorial Field, thus bringing to a close what is planned to be a red letter day in Belle Glade history.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Spencer had as their guest Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Boehmer.

The third large road contract in the Lake Okechobee Region will be let at the Nov. 15th meeting of the State Road Department in Miami, according to information received by County Commissioner Paul Rardin. It is the stretch of road between the Palm Beach-Martin county line at the Wagon-wheel running north to Chancey Bay, a distance of 10 miles.

On this piece of road the base will be worked and the roadbed widened from 18 feet to 22 feet, shoulders and slopes will be reconstructed, and a new surface will be put down. Five bridges are to be built, ranging in length from 30 to 60 feet. All bridges will be 30 feet wide.

Already advertised so that bids can be received on November 15th, is the 14 mile piece of Conner's Highway (Road 716) between Canal Point and 20-Mile Bend. This piece of road is to get a new surface of No. 17 rock and asphalt.

Another piece of road vitally needed in the Lake Region is that piece from South Bay to the Hendry County Line. This 10-mile stretch will get a hot plant mix roadbed job, a whole lot like the present type of surface that is giving such good service between Pahokee and Belle Glade.

With the three lettings on three jobs on Nov. 15, this will bring to a total of four the road contracts soon to be in progress in the Glades. The Bacom Point contract is on the job this week on his quarter of a million dollar contract.

Judge Donnell Is Lions Club Speaker

Judge E. B. Donnell of West Palm Beach was guest speaker at the Tuesday luncheon meeting of the Pahokee Lions Club. Introduced by C. A. Canipe, program chairman, Judge Donnell gave an interesting account of his recent tour through Europe during which he traveled without a guide and got a true picture of the deplorable conditions under which the people of Europe are living.

Guest of honor at the meeting was District Governor Ross G. Witters who gave a report on the activities in Lions District 35-S. The house committee reported that work will start immediately on the repair of the damage done to the Lions Hall in the recent hurricane. After the Hall is repaired, redecorated and a new kitchen built the club will move into the hall and discontinue the use of the woman's clubhouse as a meeting place.

Lobbyists' Pleadings Will Fall On Deaf Ear In 1951 House

"Florida Politics," written by Charles Hesser and appearing each Sunday in the Miami Sunday News has the following to say in regard to the 1951 session of the state legislature when Rep. B. Elliott of Pahokee will wield the gavel in the House as Speaker:

Any attempt to increase the sales tax is expected to have rough sledding in the 1951 legislature, mainly because the next speaker of the house is B. Elliott of Pahokee.

Elliott, who has served in the house since 1945, has a consistent record of economy. As a member of the appropriations committee he was a tight man with the purse strings. During the special session, he pressed the red button every time the sales tax question came before the house.

As a member he had only one vote, but as speaker of the house he will be the most powerful man in the legislature.

To him falls the all-important task of naming house committee members. House committees have life and death control over proposed legislation. If a committee fails to approve a piece of legislation, it then takes a two-thirds vote of the house membership to bring it on the floor.

Elliott can certainly be expected to appoint legislators to his committees who share his philosophy of government.

The attitude of voters in his county may have had some little influence on his sales tax vote, but those who know him feel that he was simply applying business principles to the state's affairs.

Lobbyists, who in the past have many times influenced committee appointments, are expected to get Elliott's deaf ear.

Over in the senate, President Designate Wallace Sturgis of Ocala too opposed the sales tax, but his vote was considered one of political expediency and necessity.

His two house members, Reps. Ferris Bryant and Marcus Frank, led the fight against the sales tax in the lower chamber. Marion county did not take kindly to the tax.

In addition, Sturgis, who must run again next year, is anticipating some stiff competition. Former Rep. W. S. Baskin, who set anything but a sensational record as a member of the house, but who is a good vote getter, already has announced. L. K. Edwards, well-known Marion county cattle man also is expected to make the race.

If the sales tax is rewritten in 1951, look for the writing to be done in the senate.

According to a survey among 900 Crosley dealers the average American autoist spends about 500 hours a year at the wheel, racking up his 10,000 miles. That would average about an hour and a half per day.

Demand for clay tile in bathrooms is not only showing a marked increase, but color preferences, according to a national survey, show a definite trend now toward blue, pink, peach, green and white, in that order.

School Signs Marred By Halloweeners

The pretty, bright and new signs in the school zone in Pahokee were a mess the morning after Halloween—the nice bright printing smeared out with soap. Some thoughtless prankster never once gave consideration to what those signs cost somebody. Another case of Halloween Carnival failure to accomplish what was planned to be accomplished by Halloween Carnivals.

CHURCH OF CHRIST, CLEWISTON

"ADAM AND FALLEN MAN" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world on Sunday, November 6.

The Golden Text is: "Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light" (Eph. 5:14).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Behold, the Lord's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save; neither his ear heavy, that it cannot hear. But your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid his face from you: that he will not hear" (Isa. 59:1, 2).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "It is true that a knowledge of evil would make man mortal. . . . But it is true that God, good, made 'the tree of life' to be the tree of death to His own creation? Has evil the reality of good? Evil is unreal because it is a lie,—false in every statement" (527:14-15, 17).

Coast Line Tour Is Planned Nov. 15-16

CLEWISTON—Several hundred farmers, ranchers and agricultural research leaders are expected to attend the Florida Mucklands tour on Nov. 15 and 16. The tour will cover cane fields, the U. S. Sugar Corporation sugar mill and ranch near here, the Federal Flood Control locks and levees, vegetable packing plants and the Everglades Experiment Station. The Clewiston Inn will be headquarters.

The tour is sponsored by the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad in cooperation with the Clewiston Chamber of Commerce, County Agricultural Agents, teachers of Vocational Agriculture and others.

Invitations to make the tour have been sent to hundreds and it is hoped that everyone able to do so will make the tour. The visit to the sugar cane fields will include harvesting operations, transfer of sugar cane from fields to railroad cars with full explanation of handling processes. The tour of the immense sugar mill of the U. S. Sugar Corporation will include the complete progress from delivery of sugar cane to the loading out of the finished product.

One of the features of the tour will be a visit to Sugarland Ranch, where purebred and crossbred cattle of five different breeds have been used, as well as a tour of improved pastures and inspection of facilities for water control on crops and pastures.

Flood Control Board To Get Right-Of-Way

WEST PALM BEACH—A plan to accelerate the overall water conservation and flood control program has been adopted by the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District. Board members agreed to acquire titles to necessary lands for rights-of-way as quickly as possible when needed.

W. Turner Wallis, FCD secretary, said revenue of possibly $1,000,000 from the 1949 and 1950 estate tax rolls "could be used to finance obtaining these rights-of-way." He said early reports from some of the 17 counties in the district assured the FCD of at least $342,222 from the three-tenths of a mill 1949 levy, "with some counties not yet reporting." He added that the FCD could assess a full mill in 1950 thus "you can see in excess of $1,000,000 for rights-of-way."

The board agreed to take steps toward obtaining rights-of-way in the Kissimmee River Valley and St. John's River areas.

Horticultural Group Hears Dr. J. H. Miller

TAMPA—Dr. J. Hillis Miller, president of the University of Florida, was a principal speaker at the opening general session on Tuesday night of the Florida State Horticultural Society with leaders in horticulture in attendance from all parts of the state. Frank Stirling, of Davis, president of the society, made his annual address at that meeting, pointing out the importance of the organization in the economy as relates to horticulture.

Sectional meetings were held for those specifically interested. These included the citrus section, Krome Memorial Section, processing, vegetable and ornamental sections. Senator Spessard Holland spoke on the citrus situation as viewed from Washington.

The University of Miami's exhibit of more than 50 different species of rare tropical fruits, in the Krome Memorial Section, was one of the features that attracted much attention.

News Notes From State Capital

TALLAHASSEE—An estimated 100,000 tax collectors went to work for the state of Florida this week, helping Comptroller C. M. Gay collect the new limited 3 per cent sales tax. Deadline for them to start sending in their first collections is December 20. In the meantime, the merchants, food dealers and lodging house operators must qualify as dealers with the comptroller, and otherwise conform to the law. Sixteen branch offices have been scattered over the state by the comptroller to assist and advise with the people on how and where to pay their sales tax. No tokens are involved. No stamps are given for the tax. Many of the details have not yet been reduced to regulation. The comptroller's office has emphasized that they will not "bear down" on the people, instead will proceed on the assumption that the people generally will obey the law, but need help in finding out what it means. Collections from the tax go to the general state fund, except for 3 per cent of the collections, which merchants keep as pay for their extra work. Schools, pensions and general state government costs, including the universities and college, come from this fund.

TALLAHASSEE—Pursuit of the picture of a nude woman as a fraternity initiation prank has brought seven Florida State University students on the carpet before the FSU interfraternity council. In Tampa, a night club entertainer, went to her home to get it. Hearing the voice of a man they thought was her husband, the seven fled, found they were being pursued by law enforcement officers, abandoned their car and hid in the bushes. They were flushed from hiding when a snake crawled over the legs of one of them. No charges have been placed.

TALLAHASSEE—A school trustee cannot also be employed as a bus driver in the county school system, according to Attorney General Richard W. Ervin. His opinion was delivered to J. F. Scussell of Hilliard, and involved interpreting the major school law of the state. In another opinion, to the state board of control, the attorney general pointed out that the secretary of state is the final deciding factor where there is a labor dispute, and a contractor putting up buildings for the board of control (universities, etc.), is accused of paying less than the prevailing rate of wages. Ervin advised Thomas D. Bailey, state school superintendent, that a county school board must pay its current operating expense, wages and so forth, out of available money, before it can meet unpaid obligations of a previous year.

TALLAHASSEE—As the culmination of many years of agitation on the part of Miami, the State railroad and public utilities commission has ordered the trustees of the Florida East Coast Railroad to move its downtown passenger station north some 20 blocks, to relieve congestion in the heart of the city. The commission issued its order after a series of hearings. It is understood the railroad has set aside money for locating a new depot, at Northeast Twenty-ninth Terrace, to replace the old yellow wooden one built in the days of Henry M. Flagler, one block from the 27-story Dade county courthouse. The Commission this week finished lengthy hearings on the application of the Peninsular Telephone company, second largest in Florida, for an average increase of 22 per cent in its rates, and returned to Tallahassee to study the bulky file of testimony and exhibits.

TALLAHASSEE—State game and fresh water fish commission members and employees will be given a public hearing in November or December to answer charges made against that body in recent sessions of a special state senate investigating committee. Senator B. C. Pearce of Palatka, chairman of the committee, sent Chairman L. G. Morris of Monticello a list of questions he said the committee wants answered, including charges that the commission bought unauthorized equipment, had deer killed out of season, and participated in illegal hunting expeditions. Director Coleman Newman of the commission had asked to be able to answer these charges, to cross examine witness appearing before the committee, and to learn the identity of unnamed accusers of the commission.

TALLAHASSEE—Four shifts in major command of the Florida highway patrol have been announced by Director H. N. Kirkman, changes periodically made to enable top commanders to learn new territory. Under the shift, Captain Reid Clifton will go from Lake City to Miami, Captain Tobie A. Baas from Bartow to Chipley, Captain Olin Hill from Bartow to Lakeland and Captain H. C. Martin from Chipley to Bartow. Captain J. Wallace Smith, executive officer of the patrol, will be relief division commander to assist in the transfers.

TALLAHASSEE—United States Senator Claude Pepper has established an office here to transact business during the congressional recess. Heading it is James R. Clements, his Washington secretary and former Fort Myers attorney. The senator, who maintains

TO LATE TO CLASSIFY

BY RUSSELL KAY

SECRETARY OF THE FLORIDA PRESS ASSOCIATION

A city slicker, accustomed to getting to work along about 8:00 or 9:00 o'clock in the morning poor down-trodden laboring men who put in 30 or 40 hours a week and a lot of other folks who scream about the hardships of life and yearn for the "Welfare State" ought to get out in the country and try following the local merchants and farmers around for a day.

I spent a couple of days in the bustling community of Pompano last week visiting my friend Gene Smith who manages the Kilgore Seed Company store there. Smith opens his place of business at 5:00 A. M. and even at that hour he usually finds several folks impatiently waiting, anxious to get spray material, implements or other supplies needed in their farming operations.

He is supposed to close at 6:00 in the evening but generally customers keep him there until much later, and he is often called upon to go back and open the store at 9:00 or 10:00 at night to accommodate some farmer who forgot to get feed for his mule or must have some supplies for an early start in the morning.

A Communist would probably point to Smith as a money mad capitalist, concerned only with the almighty dollar. But you can take it from me, Smith isn't beating his brains out for the money he gets. He is an old fashioned country boy who knows what it means to be neighborly and helpful. People who come to his store or phone for help at night are not just customers, they are his close friends and neighbors and he enjoys helping them with their problems and visiting with them even if they do impose on him at times.

His farmer friends show their appreciation by dropping by his place frequently with a hamper of choice fruit or vegetables, local fishermen see to it that he always has some fish in his locker and he doesn't want for fresh eggs or a chicken for his Sunday dinner. And during a day he collects a lot of sincere smiles and handshakes that help make life worthwhile.

Down the street a block, Angelo runs a restaurant. It is not very pretentious place, but it is neat and clean and OPEN before daylight. Everybody likes Angelo; he wears a smile as big as a barn and enjoys wisecracking with the farmers, packinghouse boys, field hands and others who depend on him for a steaming cup of excellent coffee and their ham and eggs just the way they like 'em. Although he speaks broken English, Angelo is as American as they come. He is rendering a real service to his community, and if it calls for hard work and long hours he don't mind. He's not getting rich but he makes a living and a helluva lot of friends and is happy. He is a lot happier than folks who worry about wages and hours and working rules and spend half their time marching up and down in front of somebody's place of business carrying "Unfair" signs.

And the farmers and growers, sun bronzed and with horny hands, are a hard working lot. Warring constantly with insects, drought, floods, cold, labor trouble and many other problems they do a real job. Now and then they get a good market and make some money but more often they see their labor wiped out in a night by a sudden freeze or a heavy rain and they have to start all over again. This happened to the growers in the Homestead area only last week when heavy rains destroyed their recently planted tomatoes. But they know how to take it and they gallantly replant and hope they will win with a good crop and a profitable market. You hear about their lucky breaks but you don't always hear about their tough ones. When it comes to gambling, these sunburned sons of toil can give the bookie boys a run for their money. Only the farmer can't pay anybody for protection against nature and the elements.

Over the weekend, in company with Vernon Ramsey, fruit and vegetable container man with whom I was traveling, and Herb Kinney, sales manager for Cumer-Graham mills of Texas, and some of the local boys, I enjoyed a fishing trip in the Gulf Stream. While we didn't catch a coveted sailfish we did get a nice mess of kings, mackerels and dolphin.

You just can't beat these Texans. When I asked Herb how the crops were in his state he said, "Well, I'll tell you, Russell, we'll have the Biggest, Little crop in our history this year."

Visiting the South Dade County area we arrived the day after a severe rainstorm had destroyed the new crop and while growers weren't too happy about it they were already planning to replant. Carroll Buil of the Dade County Growers Exchange at Princeton said all indications pointed to another good season in spite of the present difficulties. Also optimistic was George Cooper, manager of a local supply company.

At Homestead, J. Lee Smith, manager of another Kilgore Seed Store, reported business good and the outlook excellent and as he is in constant contact with all the growers and shippers in the area he ought to know.

RECENT OPERATIONS

I'm leaving the soap on The Everglades News windows. I don't intend to try and clean the stuff out of the screen door and the screens on the postoffice building. I want it to stay there just as a gentle reminder to me that it doesn't pay too much to go before civic clubs and ask for money with which to conduct Halloween Carnivals. Carnivals where youngsters are GIVEN FREE cold drinks, food and favors, with the thought in mind that they won't destroy or mar property of others if those same others furnish the carnival with all its entertainment and free things. My opinion is that the pranksters who soaped the windows have slipped in their duty. The whole idea, as I understood it, was that parents would instill into the youngsters the idea of WHY and HOW the carnival came about. It wouldn't take too much effort to clean The Everglades News windows. But, I think I'll leave them just as they are so that the pranksters who soaped them can have a good look every time they pass. I also want them to know the owner of those same windows is a fellow who has always exerted every effort to make the carnival a success.

90 YEARS. A LONG TIME!

My friend, Editor Carr Settle of Moore Haven, has the following to say about his Dad's birthday—coming up on November 17 when he will be 90:

"When my dad celebrates his 90th birthday on November 17 I'm going to insist on two birthday cakes so that we can get all of the candles lighted. When he was seventy-five we tried that many candles but burned all of the icing off the cake before we could get them lighted. With two cakes holding forty-five each it'll still be a four-man job to get them all lit.

"Many are amazed when they learn his age but they shouldn't be for he comes of a family where longevity has been common. Most of the other members of his family lived to the vicinity of ninety in West Virginia. This should make Dad good for a hundred in Florida and I'm convinced that he'll make it for he's still a better man than his youngest son." (Who happens to be the aforementioned Moore Haven editor.)

Cinematic Chatter

Here is a delightful story! Its the beautiful technicolor, romantic comedy "Mother Was a Freshman", starring Loretta Young and Van Johnson, and featuring Barbara Lawrence, Rudy Vallee and Betty Lynn, who head a great cast of players in support of the top stars. It is due for filming at the Prince Theatre, Sunday-Monday.

Its the novel story of a young widow who solves her financial troubles by winning a scholarship to the school where her daughter is a sophomore. Romance blooms between "mother" and Van Johnson... Complications arise... and there you have a great story in the making.

You will seldom see a show with the freshness, wholesomeness, and cleverness that you will find this show exhibits. It is naturally funny... charmingly romantic and lovely in its depiction... due to the gorgeous coloring. For a last word... it is simply a MUST with you on this week-end.

See you at the movies—Mal.

A new automatically controlled process will retain all the original fresh green color in canned peas, said Lloyd E. Slater, food-industry engineer of Brown Instruments division of Minneapolis-Honeywell.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Brooks and daughter, Bunny, spent the week-end with relatives in Fort Lauderdale.
